

September

Welcome to our September Newsletter. Sadly, we are being kept busy trying to help some of the many dogs that are finding themselves unwanted and on their final days in the many dog pounds across the UK counties. We need more foster homes to help save these dogs initially whilst we find forever loving homes for them. Please get in touch if you would like to help. New auctions will be starting soon to help raise money for these dogs, meanwhile please enjoy reading our Newsletter. We thank you for your continued support. China Dog Update

We still have 24 dogs in China awaiting their journey to the UK. These dogs are all well and cared for by the lovely Molly in China. At the moment we are awaiting confirmation of dates that they will be able to travel to us. Ryder is arriving from Shanghai this month and has a family waiting for him. Larry has arrived safely and is settling in with his new family here in the UK – see page 6 for an update.

ACE

Hi Sue,

Just a quick update on Ace.

He LOVED the garden and exploring the house when we got back yesterday. He has been playing with his new toys and enjoying cuddles with us.

He was good overnight considering, waking us up when he needed to go to the garden. He seems to have already settled really well and we are really pleased with how comfortable he seems.

Many thanks,

Vanessa

EDIE

(Previously Hope)

Hey Sue!

Sorry it's been a little while! Hope all well with you, the team and the doggos! Just wanted to send you a few new pics as we're at 6 months now! And we're on our first trip away! The last 6 months have had their challenges for sure, but we knew that. And you just need to push on through sometimes. Especially as I suspect that Edie has not really believed she's with us for life, but she's starting to settle a bit more. Still some things we need to work on, and we may call on a behaviourist when we get back, but she's bought a smile back to our faces. Especially when everything seemed so sad after the loss of our spaniel.

LARRY

(One of our China Dogs)

Good morning, Louise

I hope all is well

We collected Larry yesterday, and did promise Sue an update today.

He was, as expected, a little stressed after arriving home. But has started to understand his surroundings and is starting to settle. I am sure if I had a long and tiring journey, I would also be somewhat unsettled

First night has been fine - he had no accidents or issues and is finding his space and bed. Getting some items from his journey did help, I am sure.

Please thanks Sue and the others we met yesterday - well organized and simple, I am sure reducing the stress for us all.

As always, many thanks,

Andy and family

Please don't forget to carefully return our tag once you have your own made. Our stock frequently runs low, and they are quite expensive for us to replace.

Thank you!

BEAR

Hi Louise,

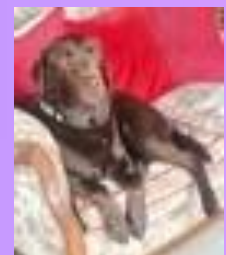

I've just realised that I haven't updated you for a very long time. We have had a precious Bear for 5 years now thanks to you. And he is just the best.

He is the most loving, fun dog we could ever wish for and is such an important part of our family. Our children are away at university now and absolutely love to get home to see the special boy. He has added so much to our lives and we are so grateful to you for matching us with him. He was a bit of a hooligan when we first met him at 10 months old, but he is the most rewarding dog ever. He still has his moments. Being a Labrador he is very partial to any food left in his reach & although rarely pinches anything now - he did help himself to my husband's bacon sandwich only this week! I blame Howard for leaving it unattended 😂.

He comes most places with us and is a delight, always gets lots of fuss and attention because he is so handsome.

Thanks again.

Kindest regards,
Jayne & Howard

THE INVOLUNTARY MOHAWK

RAISED HACKLES - FUR ON THE BACK STANDING UP
TECHNICALLY KNOWN AS PILOERECTION

PILO = LATIN = GROW HAIRY
ERECTION = NO EXPLANATION NEEDED

Piloerection is often thought to be an aggressive response, but it's also seen when dogs are :

- Startled / fearful
- Nervous / excited
- Aroused / stimulated
- Insecure / unsure
- Conflicted / undecided
- Defensive / protective

The sympathetic nervous system triggers tiny muscles at the base of the hair follicle to contract causing the fur to stand on end

This is an involuntary response over which there is no conscious control - like a person getting goose bumps

Different patterns of raised fur in different areas may signal various emotional states depending on the individual dog

Other body language / environment / specific context always needs to be looked at to determine the trigger & intervene when necessary
